Affairs in France.

Within the past week France has witnessed another of her chronic revolutions. The venerable President Thiers attempted to deliver a speech in the National Assembly, but was cried down. On Saturday intense excitement prevailed over the unexpected termination of the discussion. The President pressed an order of the day that the Republic be definitively established. The turbulent element of the Monarchists was at once aroused, and the order voted down by a vote of 362 against 343, and immediately thereafter another order, proposed by the Right, declaring that the present form of government was not under discussion and regretting that the reconstruction of the Ministry did not afford conservative guarantees, was adopted. His Excellency, unwilling to bear the ignominy of the defeat sustained by the government, tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the Assembly. Marshal McMahon was thereupon elected to fill the vacancy.

The Evening Mail, in an editorial upon the situation in France, says that "The more we know about the political situation in France the less promising does it seem. To exchange Thiers for McMahon is to substitute for the only great statesman France is known to have, an old soldier, whose experience in civil administration in Algeria proved him utterly unfit for such a trust. It is to retire the man who has made a safe bridge over which France has passed from the verge of anarchy, bankruptcy and disunion, to order, financial strength, and a renewal of her old prosperity and importance. It is to offer a temptation to monarchist and imperialist plotters, to incite the aggressive action of the Communists, and to destroy the re-awakened confidence and respect of the great Powers. While Thiers was President his personality was a power to preserve the peace, to repress the outbreak of harmful demonstrations of the factions, and to give France a period of recuperation, reconstruction, and restoration toward her old rank. McMahon is an honest old soldier, but the hat of Thiers covered more brains than would suffice for a battalion of McMahons, and military prestige will not make up for the soldier's mental deficiencies and lack of civil experience. Altogether, the outlook for France is not very cheerful.

Protection from Fire.

Bloomfield has long enjoyed immunity from disaster in the shape of fire. Her good fortune in this respect, while it may be a matter of gratulation, would seem to have lulled our good people into the belief that even ordinary precaution was unnecessary to prevent the destruction of property by fire. It cannot reasonably be expected that our good fortune is going to last always.

The disaster of Sunday morning should awaken us to the realization of the danger, and suggest that some means be devised at once to prevent the spread of fire. The burning of Mr. Baldwin's machine shop and the escape of the adjoining establishment demonstrates the advantage of brick walls and tin roofs for the protection of property contiguous to that in which a fire may break out. The extensive carriage building shops of N. H. Dodd, embracing some half-dozen structures one of which was but six feet from the brick wall of the burning building, escaped uninjured. Had it not been for that brick wall and tin roof, it is probable we should have had a "burnt district" in Bloomfield, of no inconsiderable area, as any person can be convinced by viewing the premises on Bloomfield Avenue in the vicinity of this conflagration.

The necessity seems to be apparent, that the time has arrived when some restriction should be imposed in regard to the erection of wooden buildings within certain prescribed limits in our village.

As to further protection and precautions, the subject was agitated in the columns of our paper a few weeks ago, when a correspondent suggested the use of the Babcock extinguisher. There the matter rested, and now, as the necessity has arisen for the use of something of the sort, would it not be well to canvass the subject anew? The cost of a single extinguisher, we believe is $40. Mr. J. N. Baldwin, stated that the fire on Sunday could not have been subdued by the use of one of them. The Orange Chronicle of last Saturday says: "A Babcock extinguisher was the means of saving from destruction the fine brick block of buildings on the corner of Main and Canal streets, one day this week." We hope our town authorities will take this matter into consideration at an early day.

DECORATION DAY IN NEW YORK.—Governor Dix has issued a proclamation recommending that Decoration Day, having been declared a legal holiday, be observed appropriately. The Memorial Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic are making arrangements for the parade and decoration on May 30. Services, as usual, will be held at the Academy of Music in the evening, the Union Home and School for Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans.

The programme will consist of music and speaking. Rev. Geo. H. Hepworth will deliver the opening address, ex-Governor Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut, will deliver the oration.

The cry is still they come. Westward the course of empire, etc. Three steamers arrived in New York yesterday bringing 4,000 more emigrants.

Laws Concerning Bloomfield.

In compliance with the request of many citizens we publish on the first page of this issue the Bloomfield Street Improvement law as approved by the Governor April 3d, 1873. It will be seen by reference to the act as published in the Record several weeks ago, that there have been several amendments made, among them a clause exempting that portion of the township north of the Montclair Railway from the provisions of Sec. 2, in regard to mapping; others in regard to the custody of the bonds, duties of the Collector, etc. The bill as now printed is taken from the certified copy in possession of the township clerk and may be relied upon as a correct transcript of this important law.

Several important supplements to laws already in force were also passed at the late session of the Legislature, two of which we append:

A Supplement to the act entitled "An Act to establish a system of Public Instruction," approved March twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the bonds of the school districts of this state, heretofore or hereafter legally issued for the purpose of building school houses, shall be a lien upon the real and personal estates of the inhabitants of said districts, as well as the property of the said districts; and the property of the inhabitants, as well as the property of the districts, shall be liable for the payment of the same; provided, such bonds are seven per centum bonds, and the interest is payable semi-annually, and coupons shall be attached hereto; and that in all cases copies of all papers and proceedings authorizing the issuing of such bonds shall be submitted to the attorney general for his approval of the legality of the same, who shall receive such compensation for the examination of the same as shall be fixed by the trustees for the support of public schools, which sum shall be paid by the districts seeking such loan.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 21, 1873.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An Act to make taxes a lien on real estate and to authorize sales for the payment of the same," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the real estate of any person or persons residing in this State or of any corporation of this State, may be sold for taxes in the same manner as real estate of persons residing out of this State, or foreign corporations located outside of the county in which the land is located is now sold for taxes.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 26, 1873.

Communications.

MR. EDITOR:—The fire which occurred in this village on Sunday morning last will very likely be the occasion of the usual proposals for the organization of a Fire Company. Let me say, as the result of observation and experience in fire underwriting, that on the establishment of a Fire Co. in a village like ours fires will occur more frequently and rates of insurance advance. If necessary it would be easy to show why and wherefore, nor need we go far from home for an illustration. Let us hope, therefore, that no steps will be taken in that direction. There is one thing that seems to commend itself to the consideration and action of our citizens, either through the Town Committee, or perhaps better still, through the "Protective Association": And that is, the employment of a night patrol, at least for the more populous portion of the town. One resolute, trustworthy watchman, properly equipped, with access to the church bells, for the purpose of alarm in case of fire, would prevent vastly more loss, by intimidating incendiaries, and giving prompt alarm, than any indifferently organized and furnished Fire Co. (as such usually are) could possibly do.

The patrol seems particularly necessary, now that so many buildings, some closely contiguous, are in process of erection. Another important result to be attained by the patrol, would be a still further prevention of burglary and the sense of relief and security afforded, especially to timid persons.

Other considerations might be mentioned but they will readily suggest themselves to any one reflecting on the subject. The expense would be moderate if all the families in a given neighborhood would join in the experiment.

A CARD.—The undersigned hereby tenders his heartfelt gratitude to those of his fellow citizens who so earnestly labored to save his property from destruction by fire on Sunday morning last, and especially for the careful consideration of unnecessary removal or handling of the loose goods.

N. H. DODD.

SIDEWALK HINTS.—The plank sidewalk on Railroad Avenue in the vicinity of Powers' Mill is getting sadly out of repair. If steps are not soon taken to repair the breaches, our doctors will reap a harvest of sprained or broken ankles, and our West Enders who travel that way, will, one after another, have to adopt crutches. We observed in a late visit to Montclair that the sidewalks in that village had been nearly reconstructed. This reflects credit upon the authorities of our sister township. Perhaps it may be well in this connection to hint that the custom of building these walks with the planks extending lengthwise is not a good one; it must render necessary much extra work and trouble when repairs have to be made. A walk constructed with narrow planks laid transversely greatly facilitates the work of repairing, and if good sound pine timber is used the cost of the repairs would be a but small item for the first five years.

LEGITIMATE ADVERTISING.—The attention of those of our readers who are in the habit of purchasing clothing is directed to our advertising columns. The five establishments whose proprietors have availed themselves of this legitimate method of attracting the attention of our people are all good, reliable, houses, and are entitled to patronage rather than parties who disgrace our fences and buildings by painting thereon their names and occupations.

Bloomfield Local News.

DISASTROUS FIRE.—The machine shop of A. N. Baldwin & Son, on Bloomfield Avenue, was discovered to be on fire at about two o'clock on Sunday morning last. The alarm was given and many residents in the vicinity turned out and rendered material aid in their efforts to prevent the spreading of the flames. The building consisted of a frame and a brick structure, joined together and used as a wood-turning, machine and blacksmith's shop. It was in the wood turning department that the fire is supposed to have originated. Owing to the advanced state of the conflagration when first discovered, it was impossible to subdue it with only the primitive apparatus comprised by a few water buckets, and attention was directed to the wheelwright shop of N. H. Dodd, which was only distant some half dozen feet from the northwest corner of the machine shop. Mr. Dodd arrived on the ground just as efforts were being made to break into his shop with the view of getting out the contents. It was suggested that an attempt be first made to save the building, and in the event of its taking fire there would then be ample time to get the tools, etc., out. This plan was pursued and the result was that the building escaped uninjured. Had it taken fire, a half dozen others would have met the same fate, and there would probably have been three or four times the loss sustained by Messrs. Baldwin, which is estimated at $15,000. The insurance upon the whole is only to the amount of $3,200, thus making the loss upon the owners a heavy one. Many of our manufacturers who rely upon this machine shop for their repairs, and thus feel that it is a loss to themselves, will aid the unfortunate firm in their efforts to rebuild and resume their business, which has long been an important one in the town.

ANOTHER HOUSE ENTERED.—On Monday afternoon the dwelling of Mr. W. A. Collins, in the Crystal Spring hamlet of our town, during the absence of the occupants was boldly entered by two individuals, who at once proceeded deliberately—not to commit burglary or arson—but to make preparations for a more pleasant surprise for the absent proprietors when they should return that evening, the day being the fifth anniversary of their marriage. About 8 o'clock the invited guests began to arrive, and later still came the surprised recipients of this very pleasant occasion, somewhat puzzled at the first but soon entering heartily into the appreciation and enjoyment of the ruse. Many very pretty and valuable presents were brought by the guests, but we need not particularize. Among the amusing incidents of the evening was a romping, old fashioned game of blind man's bluff, in which a Bay Avenue gentleman particularly distinguished himself, to the horror of certain nervous ladies. No damage was done, however, until supper was announced, when the usual havoc and sacrifice of good things ensued. This important part of the entertainment was under the supervision of Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Madison, to whose good taste, efficiency and discretion the happy results attained were chiefly due. The table was beautifully arranged, the central figure being an elegant pyramid of spring flowers, the offering of Mrs. Nichols, and which called forth deserved admiration.

WESTMINSTER SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.—The third anniversary of this prosperous Sunday School was held at the Westminster Chapel on Sunday evening last, and was numerously attended. The platform and tables were profusely decorated with choice and beautiful flowers, most tastefully arranged, reflecting great credit on the young ladies of the school. From the interesting report of the Secretary, Mr. H. Biddulph, we learn that great progress has been made by the school, the gain in membership in the past two years having been about forty-six per cent—the total number of members being now, if our memory serves us right, one hundred and ninety-seven. This school is organized into a missionary association, and their collections are devoted to missionary purposes in our own land,—upwards of two hundred dollars of their collections having been appropriated, during the past year, to support missionary operations in the West. The most interesting feature of the report was the pleasing fact that the work of the school had not been in vain in its influence upon themselves, as seven of the scholars during the year had given satisfactory evidence of the power of the truth upon their hearts and lives, and made open profession of their love for the Saviour by connecting themselves with the church. The singing of the scholars was admirable, and spoke volumes for their efficient training under Mr. Robert J. Beach. After the opening exercises of singing by the school, the reading of a portion of the Scriptures and prayer by the pastor, Dr. Kennedy, the Superintendent, Mr. Ludlum, introduced Mr. Samuel W. Clark of Newark, as the speaker of the evening. His speech, or sermon, was mainly upon the text, "Ye are the light of the world," was a masterly effort, and although especially designed to interest and instruct the children, was no less instructive and interesting to those advanced in years. It was expected that Dr. Kennedy would follow with an address, but owing to the lateness of the hour, he merely made a few remarks, and after singing by the congregation, the meeting was dismissed with the benediction.

THE CHAPEL OF THE CONGREGATIONAL SOCIETY in Montclair has been finished and the church will worship in it for the first time on next Sunday. It is a beautiful room located in a transept of the main church, which is rapidly approaching completion.

Montclair Local News.

MONTCLAIR LIBRARY.—And books we know are a substantial world both pure and good. Round these, with tendrils strong as flesh and blood, Our passion and our happiness will grow.

The people of Montclair have reason to congratulate themselves upon having a well-established library. Four years have passed since the foundation of this library. Since then a beautiful building has been erected and paid for, at an expense of about $1750, and books to the number of 1300 volumes placed upon its shelves. To these the public has access six days in the week from two to six P. M., and subscribers of three dollars per annum have the privilege of drawing the books out for a period of one month to three weeks. At the annual meeting of the stockholders, May 13th, 1873, Messrs. F. H. Harris, Dr. J. H. Love, C. K. Wilner, John F. Gross, Saml. Wilde, Julius H. Pratt, W. H. Van Slyke, and Mrs. A. D. Dickinson and Mrs. Israel Crane were chosen Directors, and at a subsequent meeting of these Directors, Dr. J. H. Love was elected President; S. Wilde, Vice-President; Israel Crane Secretary and Treasurer. The Librarian was re-elected for the ensuing year.

Among other interesting particulars reported were the following: the number of volumes given out during the past year, has been 2641, being an increase of 1455 over those of last year. The number of volumes presented has been 185, not including "Picturesque America," donated by Mr. C. N. Bovee. The library also contains nearly 200 volumes of valuable Congressional documents. The number of books purchased during the year was 256. A new catalogue is in course of preparation by the Library Committee, to be issued in a few weeks. This Committee presented its report, giving the above statistics, and expressing much encouragement that the figures show so large an increase of volumes, of subscribers, and of interest in the institution. No reflecting person can visit this library from day to day, and not see the benefit that may be derived from a well-selected library of good books; especially to those whose means do not allow them free access to books. As an institution it is a constant testimony to the intelligence and public spirit of the people. It is an unfailing source of entertainment and profit. It stimulates a greater unity among the people. It promotes a deeper interest in the common welfare. It renders a residence in the community more attractive and valuable. It furnishes occupation and amusement for many whose time would otherwise be spent in idleness or dissipation, and enables those who desire to keep acquainted with the best thoughts of the most cultivated minds in the world. And on this and other accounts it is greatly to be desired that the Committee be enabled to place upon the shelves the best books, and not be compelled to minister to a false taste for the sake of securing subscriptions. The appetite for reading is very apt to grow with what it feeds on, and now is the time to form a pure and healthy taste in this community. Around such a library all should gather, as around a fountain of good, a shrine where good spirits of the past and present are preserved and reposed.

Brief Locals.

Mosquitoes are plentiful. Croquet is quite the thing just now. Postal cards are being extensively used. Notices have been posted on the park for bidding ball-playing.

The second instalment of the Montclair Gas and Water Company's stock will be due and payable June 1st.

The beautiful Elms on Bloomfield Avenue, near Mr. Wildes' store are being removed.

The lectures by Dr. Jewett, on Sunday and Monday evenings, were largely attended. They were extremely interesting.

Roseville Avenue, on the former site of Watessville Lake is being graded. Glenwood Avenue will also be opened at an early day.

Apprehensions of danger to pedestrians and teams are felt from the manner in which the large trees are being removed by the Road Board from Bloomfield Avenue.

Music.—Reinhardt's Brass Band has been engaged by some of our music loving citizens to play in Bloomfield on Saturday evening next.

Some enterprising individual whose identification seems to be a matter of extreme difficulty, is gaining an enviable notoriety in disseminating fictitious news throughout this vicinity.

We have been requested to state that the unpaid subscriptions to the fund for moving the building known as Wilde's store are now due and payable to the township collector, Ira Campbell.

WHEREAS, Many persons are in the habit of congregating about the Centre on Saturday evenings particularly, and the combined noise and disturbance of these nocturnal conventions has become a serious annoyance to many families residing in the vicinity: Therefore it is by mutual consent requested that the parties alluded to adjourn and go to their homes at a reasonable hour.
